Master’s Projects directed at UNLV

In 2006 I lead the policy change for the MPA Degree to no longer require the completion of a traditional thesis. Since that time, the MPA requires that students complete a Capstone Analytical Paper/Project. This final project has the student apply analytical skills to an issue of interest to a governmental or nonprofit agency and is completed at the end of a student's program of study. Since 2006, I have directed 88 students on their MPA projects.
